PUHTI BATTERY LR03 AAA 10/BL

Description of product family

The former Vihreä Voima (Green Power) battery has now been renamed as the Airam Puhti battery series. With the new product name and fresh packaging design, we aim to highlight the versatility of Puhti batteries and avoid misleading claims about their environmental friendliness. Puhti batteries do not contain cadmium or mercury. They are durable and affordable general-purpose batteries for various needs, such as remote controls, flashlights, toys, and decorative lights. Everyone needs a little Puhti now and then! Always keep batteries available both at home and at the cottage. Storage durability: 7 years. Batteries should be recycled by taping over the terminals to prevent them from touching each other in the recycling container, which could cause dangerous overheating. Small batteries and accumulators can be recycled by taking them to the nearest store. If a recycling container is not visible, ask the staff for assistance.
